

On February 2007 we held the Sixth Minerva Workshop. The topic was "Small Decisions" and the meeting took place at Room 527, Bloomfield building, Faculty of Industrial Engineering, Technion.

Below is the program of the Workshop:

The Minerva Workshop Series

The Minerva Workshop on Small Decision

Sunday, February 25, 10:30-13:45

10:30-11:15	Human learning in partially observable Markov problems	Guido Biele, Max Planck Institute, Berlin
11:15-11:45	Two systems, careful analysis, and base rate neglect	Amos Scurr, Hebrew University
11:45-12:15	Peak or rare	Ro'i Zultan, Hebrew University
12:15	Lunch
13:15-13:45	The priority heuristic, confidence and reaction time	Shahar Ayal and Guy Hochman, Technion

Round table discussion