

On June 2012 we held the 17th Minerva Workshop. The meeting took place at Room 527, Bloomfield building, Faculty of Industrial Engineering, Technion

Below is the program of the Workshop:

The Minerva workshop on decisions and emotional expressions

June 15, 10:00-15:00

10:00	My view of Gary Bornstein's views of decisions and emotions	Ido Erev, Technion
10:10	Beyond Happiness and Satisfaction: Towards National Well-Being Indices Based on Stated Preference	Ori Heffetz, Cornell University
10:50	Coffee
11:10	Mental equilibrium emotions and mind reading	Eyal Winter, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
11:50	Why organisms need emotions: an evolutionary perspective	Arnon Lotem, Tel-Aviv University
12:30	Light lunch
12:50	"Is it good, bad, or indifferent?" Misunderstanding medical information	Talya Miron-Shatz, Ono Academic College
13:30	The Peak and the Freq Effects	Amos Schurr, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
13:50	On Learned Helplessness, Absence of Control and the Cost of Exploration	Kinneret-Teodorescu, Technion
14:10	Ride to the beach for beer	